

TWILA THOMPSON CO-FOUNDER & DIRECTOR

Twila is a founding partner of The TAI Group and has been with TAI for 30 years. Her coaching experience covers a wide range of industries with clients at the highest corporate levels. Her clients and assignments include:

- Leadership and platform development work with the CEO of Taylor Energy, the United States' largest privately-held energy company.
- Speaker development coaching with the CEO of Rogers Corporation and former commander of the US Marines in 1991 Gulf War.
- Personal, leadership and speaker development work with dozens of senior partners of The Boston Consulting Group around the world to enhance their capabilities as internal leaders as well as powerful client relationship builders.
- Coaching board level executives at Monsanto Corporation on personal principles underlying strategy development and execution.
- Developing strong communication skills with Yum! Corporation senior executives.
- Co-led major culture change exercise involving more than 200 senior staff at Mt. Sinai Hospital in New York City.
- Partnering with the business school faculty at IMD in Europe and Asia to cultivate communication and team development skills for their clients.

Twila has created ground-breaking programs for international charity and not-for-profit organizations, including work for NYU Stern School of Business, The Professional Performing Arts School in New York, and Maiti Nepal. She led the AIDS Mastery, a pioneering support program for people with AIDS in the United States and Canada from 1986-1998.

Twila holds a B.A. in Theater from Grinnell College.