

Sandra Carey
Director and Senior Coach

One of our most traveled coaches, Sandra has clients in the US, Asia, South America and throughout Europe. Clients praise her ability to quickly understand the breadth of their role and design programs that directly and practically address their needs. Her infectious drive and motivation deepens her clients' ability to push themselves beyond their boundaries. She continually reinforces the behavioral changes needed to enhance clients' leadership. Sandra's notable work includes:

- Head of TAI's Asia division with clients in Singapore, Hong Kong, Tokyo and across India
- Long-term international engagements with individuals and teams from organizations such as The Boston Consulting Group, Monsanto, Vitruvian Partners, Rogers Corporation, Elsevier and Merrill Lynch on communications and leadership development
- Trusted adviser to CEOs and senior executives in a variety of industries including financial services, publishing, agriculture and energy among others

Before joining TAI Sandra was a branding and marketing communications consultant. Prior to that, she worked for 12 years as Director of Investor Relations at Patricof & Co. Ventures, now known as Apax Partners, a global private equity firm. Her theater training includes the British American Drama Academy, Michael Howard Studios, The School for Film & Television, and a New York-based Master Class acting program.